DETAILED ACTION

Oath/Declaration

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraph of 37 CFR 1.67(b) that forms the basis of the objection under this section made in this Office action:

A supplemental oath or declaration meeting the requirements of § 1.63 must be filed when a claim is presented for matter originally shown or described but not substantially embraced in the statement of invention or claims originally presented or when an oath or declaration submitted in accordance with § 1.53(f) after the filing of the specification and any required drawings specifically and improperly refers to an amendment which includes new matter. No new matter may be introduced into a nonprovisional application after its filing date even if a supplemental oath or declaration is filed. In proper situations, the oath or declaration here required may be made on information and belief by an applicant other than the inventor.

As a result of amendment(s) to the claim(s), the pending claim(s) no longer substantially embrace the invention as set forth in the statement of the invention and/or in the original claim(s). Accordingly, applicant is required to file a supplemental oath or declaration in response to this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 65-127, and 129-139 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

4. It is noted with particularity that all original 42 claims as well as later-filed claims 43-64 have been canceled and that new claims 65-139 have been added. A review of the amendment finds a statement that “no new matter has been added;” however, the response does not provide any indication where the limitations of each and every claim are supported by the original disclosure. (Claim 128 was canceled via amendment received 08 June 2006.)

5. As set forth in MPEP 714.02 [R-3]: “The prompt development of a clear issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims. Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP § 2163.06. An amendment which does not comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.121(b), (c), (d), and (h) may be held not fully responsive. See MPEP § 714” (Emphasis added.)

6. Accordingly, and in the absence of convincing evidence to the contrary, claims 65-127, and 129-139 are deemed to comprise new matter.

Response to argument

7. Starting at page 13 of the response received 08 June 2006 argument is presented as to where support for the currently pending claims can be located. Attention is directed to pages 4-6 of the specification as well as Table 1 (page 20) as providing support for claims.

8. The above argument has been fully considered and has not been found persuasive. It is noted that claim 65 recites no upper limit, yet Table 1 clearly shows that no fragment greater than 1.65 kb was generated, and then but a single copy was present in the composition. Such showing does not provide support for where fragments of multiple kilobases in length are being claimed.

9. Page 5, last paragraph, does recite various fragments, however, they are being described not in the context of a composition, but rather, in the context of what a plasmid comprises. It is further noted that the sizes of the fragments are not approximate, i.e., there is no use of the term ‘about,’ nor any recitation of fragments that would occur between any two points. Rather, the specification states that fragments of specific, i.e., exact, sizes and in specific relative copy numbers were combined. Such narrow limitations are not recited in the present claims.

10. While the specification does provide support of the presence of a detectable label or dye, the specification, as indicated above, does not provide support for the underlying nucleic acid ladder.

11. At pages 16-20 of the response argument is presented and repeated as to what one of skill in the art would have considered. This argument has been fully considered and has not been found persuasive. Attention is directed to MPEP 2145.

Attorney argument is not evidence unless it is an admission, in which case, an examiner may use the admission in making a rejection. See MPEP § 2129 and § 2144.03 for a discussion of admissions as prior art.

The arguments of counsel cannot take the place of evidence in the record. In re Schulze, 346 F.2d 600, 602, 145 USPQ 716, 718 (CCPA 1965); In re Geisler, 116 F.3d 1465, 43 USPQ2d 1362 (Fed. Cir. 1997) (“An assertion of what seems to follow from common experience is just attorney argument and not the kind of factual evidence that is required to rebut a prima facie case of obviousness.”). See MPEP § 716.01(c) for examples of attorney statements which are not evidence and which must be supported by an appropriate affidavit or declaration.

12. For the above reasons, and in the absence of convincing evidence to the contrary, claims 65-127, and 129-139 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The cancellation of claim 128 has rendered the rejection of same moot.

Conclusion

13. Objections and/or rejections which appeared in the prior Office action and which have not been repeated hereinabove have been withdrawn.

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

15. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
